

Law School Representatives

Representatives from over 180 law schools will be available on Friday from NOON to 5:00 PM and Saturday from 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM in the Regency Ballroom on the ballroom level.

Workshops

All workshops are in Centennial III and Centennial IV on the ballroom level.

Forum 101

Begin the forum experience with this workshop on how to get the most from this chance to talk with law school representatives. Receive insider tips on which questions are the most productive; hear ideas on mapping the day to take advantage of workshops on admission, financial aid, and the LSAT; and learn about lesser-known forum resources, such as free counseling with prelaw advisors and a panel discussion with local attorneys. The first Forum 101 begins an hour before the forum opens, and includes the application process workshop. Come early to get a head start on your forum experience.

Diversity Information Panel

Law schools are interested in recruiting students who reflect rich diversity. Depending on the law school, diversity may include such characteristics as race and ethnicity, sexual orientation, physical disabilities, and socioeconomic status. The diversity information panel is an opportunity for students from diverse backgrounds to ask panelists for general advice about admission policies and application procedures. Attending these question and answer sessions is not a substitute for visiting law school representatives during forum hours, but they will allow participants to ask questions about the many unique challenges faced by students from diverse backgrounds.

The Application Process

The application process workshop will cover the elements basic to applying to law school such as self-assessment, scheduling and timing, the LSAT, the LSAC Credential Assembly Service (LSDAS), personal statements, letters of recommendation, school visits, and the decision-making process. An abbreviated version of the video Getting There: Four Paths to Law School will be shown as part of this workshop.

Financing a Legal Education

The financial aid workshop will cover what aid is available, the loan application process, qualifying for federal and private loan programs, credit worthiness, and future indebtedness.

What Do Lawyers Do?

A panel of attorneys representing a diverse cross section of practice areas will inform participants about the profession. Panelists will describe their career paths and offer details on the skills needed to represent clients effectively. This panel will be especially helpful to participants who do not know practicing lawyers.

About the LSAT

The Law School Admission Council's test development staff will provide a brief overview of the test. Included will be insight into the different question types and how to approach them, as well as basic suggestions on how to best prepare for the LSAT. Information about the Credential Assembly Service (LSDAS), including letters of recommendation, will also be highlighted.
