

LSAC Law School Engagement and Ambassador Teams

Your Gateway to LSAC

Collaborators in Success

The LSAC Law School Engagement and Ambassador teams support your work and success by connecting you with LSAC-related information, answers, education, recruitment assistance, professional development, and more. They work to build trusted relationships within the law school community. This ensures they understand current and evolving needs and develop the right resources to address them.

Here for you every day to answer questions, solve problems, and meet challenges

In the Law School Engagement area, there are two teams that work directly with law schools.

- ✓ The LSAC Ambassadors are law school admission experts. Through educational presentations and professional consultations, they offer support to prospective law school applicants and legal education professionals.

The Ambassadors are ready to help by showing you how to make full use of LSAC's valuable array of tools and resources so you can work smarter and more efficiently.

They welcome invitations to present or table at events. Their list of presentation topics includes DEI, financial aid, and LSAT prep, to name just a few. Contact the Ambassadors at lawschoolengagement@LSAC.org or fill out an Ambassador Request Form.

- ✓ School Services Account Executives provide non-technical assistance for issues related to the Online Admission Directory, the Official Guide, listservs, and more. They have answers to your questions about almost anything LSAC-related. If they don't know the answer, they'll find out who does. Write to them at lawschoolengagement@LSAC.org.

Marketing and Recruiting Support

LSAC Law School Forums

Together with the LSAC Events team, and with guidance from the Forums Work Group, Law School Engagement staff organize digital and in-person LSAC Forums each year, creating an important marketing and recruiting opportunity for law schools.

Learning and Professional Development

A year-round program of webinars, workshops, and other learning events brings the admission community together to explore trends, timely topics, and critical and emerging issues. Expert presenters and panelists not only share the newest thinking, but they also describe best practices and offer advice that you can apply in your day-to-day work.

Law School Engagement Professional Education Webinar Series

Ambassador webinars explore a variety of timely law school admission-related topics. They are presented by experts from LSAC, the law school admission community, and beyond.

LSAC Annual Meeting and Educational Conference

The Annual Meeting and Educational Conference is the law school admission community's premier event of the year, with three full days of learning on timely, relevant topics.

Newcomers Workshop

Designed by and for law school admission professionals, the LSAC Newcomers Workshop provides orientation and onboarding for those new to law school admission.
